

Explaining Cancer to Young Survivors

Every parent wonders how to approach serious conversations with their children. Parents who are raising a childhood cancer survivor have uniquely hard choices to make. Use this worksheet to outline your goals and concerns for explaining cancer to your child. If you feel stuck, ask your child's medical team for help.

Sharing

Shielding

Benefits

Risks

